Notes

- The information provided will be treated in the strictest confidence by the Trustee.
- You are under no obligation to give details of your relationship with any individual you name. However, it may assist the Trustee in exercising its discretion when determining whether to award a pension to a dependant.
- In the event of any changes in your circumstances, it's your responsibility to ensure that any change in your wishes is made known by submitting another form or by giving notice of cancellation of this form. You may do this at any time.
- The benefits following your death are very valuable, so it's important that you consider what your wishes are and whether your circumstances mean that you'd like to nominate a dependant to receive a pension from the Fund.
- You can get a new form from My Total Roche.
